

Duke Women's Impact Network

2018-2019 Leadership Council Biographies

Isela Bahena M.B.A.'04 is a Managing Director in Nuveen's Private Infrastructure team with nineteen years of experience in the financial services sector. Ms. Bahena has spent her career underwriting debt and equity investments in an investment management role and currently leads a team which originates, structures, and invests in private equity and below investment-grade debt across the energy and infrastructure sectors overseeing a $2B portfolio. Ms. Bahena has in-depth knowledge on various corporate governance matters and serves on several boards for investments in Europe and North America including transportation, telecommunications, and a Canadian energy platform. Ms. Bahena is an advisory board and steering committee member for strategic midstream and transportation partnerships.

Ms. Bahena's previous experience includes investment and portfolio management in the private equity fund, co-investment, mezzanine and timber assets with a focus on emerging markets. She has also invested in domestic and international private placement debt. Before joining Nuveen in 2004, Ms. Bahena was responsible for public finance and general middle-market lending and underwriting at Bank of America.

Ms. Bahena holds a Bachelors of Science in Economics from the University of Illinois at Urbana-Champaign and a Masters in Business Administration from Duke's Fuqua School of Business. She is bilingual in English and Spanish plus conversational in Portuguese.

Julie E. Ferguson '81, P'10, P'12, P'15 graduated magna cum laude with an A.B. in economics and fine arts and distinction in art history. She received her M.B.A. with distinction from Wharton in 1986. She worked at American Security Bank in Washington, D.C., Kraft Dairy Group in Philadelphia, and as a marketing consultant in Philadelphia. Julie has served on several community boards, including the Foundation for Learning in Tredyffrin/Easttown and the Community Coalition. She is a past Duke Alumni Association board vice president and executive committee member, and currently serves on the Duke Philadelphia board.

She and her husband, Ritson Ferguson '81, co-chaired the Duke Trinity Board of Visitors. They reside in Berwyn, Pennsylvania, and have three children, Thomas '10, Caitlin '12, and James '15.

Claire Foerster '87 (chemistry and economics) has spent her career working as a teacher and educational advocate with a focus on promoting K-12 science education as well as encouraging young women to pursue studies in STEM. She advises and supports organizations that help to provide high-quality education for all children and serves on the Board of Directors for New Beginnings Family Academy, a public charter school in Bridgeport, CT. She is also a current member of the Trinity Board of Visitors at Duke. Claire and her husband, Daniel Bernstein, live in Westport, CT, and have two daughters who attend Dartmouth College.

Sunghi Pak Frauen M.B.A.'97, P'19 earned her undergraduate degree from the University of Virginia and received her master's degree in Economics before entering the Ph.D. program in finance at Duke where she completed her doctorate coursework. She then worked at First Union Capital Markets in Charlotte, North Carolina, before returning to Duke for her M.B.A. degree. Sunghi then joined Goldman, Sachs & Co. in their fixed income division.

Now residing in Greenwich, Sunghi was an active member of the Greenwich Junior League and on the finance board of the Greenwich Library while working at Sotheby's International Realty. In recent years, she served as CFO for Tom Foley's CT Senate campaign as well as his gubernatorial campaign. Afterward, Sunghi joined Linda McMahon's Senate Campaign as Treasurer and Compliance Officer. She and her husband Bill Frauen M.B.A.'92 have two daughters, Sarah '19 and Courtney, and one son William.

Abby Field Gerry '02 and her family have always made environmental issues their priority. For the last ten years Abby has served on the national council of the World Wildlife Fund. Abby is also on the board of The Bedford Historical Society and served on the board at the Nicholas School of the Environment at Duke University.

Caroline Gottschalk J.D. '90, P'19 is a partner at Simpson Thacher & Bartlett LLP in New York, where she specializes in mergers and acquisitions and private equity. She advises public and private companies, as well as private equity funds, in a wide range of matters, including acquisitions, divestitures and other strategic transactions, governance, and general corporate advice. Caroline is co-chair of the Women's Initiative at Simpson Thacher, which focuses on the promotion and retention of, as well as business and professional development efforts for, women.

Caroline was the recipient of the 2016 Forever Duke Award, and was the Law School's Young Alumni Award. She is a senior member of the Law School Board of Visitors, and is a former member of the Law Alumni Association Board of Directors. She was chair of her law school class' 25th reunion, was a founding member and serves on the advisory board of the Duke Law Club of New York, and regularly participates as a panelist in Duke Business Law Society's annual ESQ Forum. Through her continuing involvement with the Law School, Caroline enjoys working with current students (particularly women) to provide guidance and career advice.

Caroline is co-chair of the Professional Development Committee of Women of Dartmouth New York, and is a former member of the board of directors of New York City Outward Bound Schools. She received an A.B. from Dartmouth College in 1984. She lives in New York and has two children. Her son Benjamin is a member of the Class of 2019.

Elizabeth Ann Harden M.D. '78, HS '84 is a physician specializing in medical oncology and hematology. During her service in the Air Force, Dr. Harden helped open the Department of Defense Bone Marrow Transplant Program at Wilford Hall. Following this, she was Medical Director of the Bone Marrow Transplant Unit at the University of Louisville. Since 1992 she has enjoyed a busy practice with Virginia Oncology Associates in Newport News, Virginia, where she lives with her husband Richard Hoefler, a surgical oncologist.

Carolyn Ryan Healey M.B.A. '91, P'16, P'20 has been involved for more than twenty years in various community organizations in Montreal, Paris, and Princeton, New Jersey. Currently, Carolyn serves as Vice President and Treasurer of the Princeton Public Library Foundation Board, and Board Member and Committee Chair for the Stony Brook Millstone Watershed Association. Previously, Carolyn was a founding member and past Director of the Women in Leadership Forum in Princeton, past Vice President-elect of the McCarter Theater Board of Associates as well as a past board member of the Junior League of Greater Princeton and Stony Brook Garden Club. Carolyn has also been a volunteer and fundraising leader for various schools. Carolyn has a BA in Philosophy and a BS in Computer Science from Villanova University and an MBA from Duke University's Fuqua School of Business, and has worked as a consultant to several industries over the years and currently manages a private foundation. Carolyn and her husband, John Healey MBA '92, live in Princeton and have two daughters, Helen '20 and Julia '16.

Lora Berson Hersh '91, P'19, P'19 graduated from Duke with a BA in Art History. While at Duke, she began her career at The Discovery Channel in Bethesda, MD, as a summer intern. After graduation, she continued at Discovery in Ad Sales Marketing and Promotion, through the network's acquisition of TLC and Animal Planet, eventually moving to New York before becoming an outside marketing consultant to Discovery Communications, Inc. Lora next became the Director of Image Development & Marketing for WonderCamp, Inc., a start-up chain of children's entertainment centers in the NYC metro area. After several years spent raising her children and working intermittently as an independent marketing consultant, Lora has recently returned to work as an Account Director at New Frontier, a digital marketing firm in Millburn, NJ.

Active in her community, Lora has served as the co-chair of the Annual Parents' Fund at Seton Hall Preparatory School where she also serves on the Board of the Mothers Auxiliary, and is an active volunteer with the Griffin Bridges Program. She has co-chaired several fundraisers for the Visual Arts Center of NJ, and served on the Board of Directors of Millburn-Short Hills Youth Baseball.

For Duke, Lora has served for many years as an active member of the NJ AAAC as well as the NJ Women's Forum. She has recently served as a member of the Athletics Leadership Group, and was a co-chair of the 25th Reunion Committee. She and her husband Jeff Hersh T'88 live in Short Hills, NJ, and have four children, Zachary '19, Morgan '19, Casey, and Brandon.

Betsy DeHaas Holden '77, P'11, is a Senior Advisor to McKinsey & Company, working with clients across industries on strategy, marketing, innovation and board effectiveness initiatives. She has over 35 years of experience in consumer goods. Betsy was formerly Co-CEO of Kraft Foods and CEO of Kraft Foods North America. In addition to her CEO role at Kraft, Betsy also held the positions of President, Global Marketing and Category Development; Executive Vice President of Operations, R&D, IT; plus multiple division president and line management roles.

Betsy serves on the boards of Diageo PLC, Western Union, Time Inc., and the Kellogg School of Management Executive Committee and Global Advisory Board. Betsy is also a Senior Fellow of the Kellogg Innovation Network, President of the Board of the Off the Street Club and serves on the Boards of the Chicago High School for the Arts, the and Ravinia Musical Festival.

Betsy graduated Summa Cum Laude and Phi Beta Kappa with a B.A. in education from Duke. She was a member of the Trinity Board of Visitors from 2003-2011, serving as chair from 2009-2011. She received a M.A. in Teaching from Northwestern University and a Masters of Management from the Kellogg School of Management at Northwestern, where she was named valedictorian.

Betsy joined the Board of Trustees in 2011 and serves as member of the Executive Committee, Chair of the Human Resources Committee and a member of the Academic Affairs Committee. She has also served on the Undergraduate Education Committee, the Institutional Advancement Committee and the Committee on Honorary Degrees. Betsy and her husband, Arthur, have two children: Andrew '11 and Julie '13.

Barbara Janulis '83 graduated from Duke University with an A.B. in Economics and went directly on to earn an M.M. from Northwestern's J.L. Kellogg Graduate School of Management. After a career in fixed income sales at Goldman Sachs and Bear Stearns, she retired in 1993 to be a full time mother and volunteer.

Barbara has proudly served for over a decade as a National Board Member of The Posse Foundation, a leading national college access, success and leadership development program. She, along with her husband Ted, are also focused personally and professionally in the environment/conservation space and are co-owners of EcoWatch, an environmental media site where Barbara contributes to the company's audience development and social media strategy.

At Duke, Barbara serves as a member of the DukeEngage National Advisory Board and has joined her fellow DukeEngage board member, Linda Sterling '82, also an avid cyclist, in supporting Dana-Farber Cancer Institute by participating each summer in the Pan-Mass Challenge - 200 mile, two-day bike ride across Massachusetts. She was a co-chair of her Duke 30th reunion and currently serves as a co-chair of her 35th reunion. Barbara and Ted live in New York City and have three grown children, Peter, Helena, and Christina.

Mary Brantley Johnson N'09, N'12, N'15 (DNP, APRN, FNP-BC, CWP) completed a bachelor of science degree in molecular biology at Meredith College, then earned an accelerated bachelor of science degree in nursing, a master of science in nursing as a family nurse practitioner, and a doctorate of nursing practice at Duke University. She returned to Meredith in 2015 after working for several years as an urgent care provider. In April 2017, Dr. Johnson was awarded with the National Wellness Institute's Certified Wellness Practitioner designation, which symbolizes an individual's strong academic preparation, professional competency in wellness programming, and commitment to continuing education, scholarship, and professional development.

Dr. Johnson serves on the National Consortium for Building Healthy Academic Communities, the North Carolina Immunization Coalition, and the Beta Epsilon Chapter of Sigma Theta Tau International Honor Society. At Meredith, Dr. Johnson serves on the Incident Management Team, Wellness Advisory Committee, Safety and Health Committee, and Orientation Committee, as an advisor for Peer Educators Advocating Responsible Lifestyles (PEARLS), and a preceptor for both UNC and Duke nursing students.

She enjoys traveling, autocrossing her MINI Cooper, and attending Duke sporting events. Dr. Johnson lives in Cary with her husband, Brice Johnson B.S.E. '02, M.Eg.M '03, and fur children: Lewis (Great Dane), Bailey (Beagle), and Gonzo (Maine Coon).

Stacy Klein-Gardner B.S.E.'91 is a Senior Professional Development Provider for the Museum of Science in Boston's Engineering is Elementary program. In addition, she is an adjunct associate professor of biomedical engineering at Vanderbilt University. She has served as the associate dean for Educational Outreach at Vanderbilt. Stacy serves on Duke's Pratt School of Engineering Board of Visitors. Stacy and her husband Matthew Gardner have one child, Drew. Stacy received her undergraduate degree in biomedical and electrical engineering and subsequently earned a master's from Drexel and a Ph.D. from Vanderbilt.

Kathy Crommelin Lieb '69, P'03 (French) worked almost ten years for the American Society for Testing and Materials in Philadelphia, retiring as Editor of Periodicals to raise a family. She has volunteered with her local schools, Girl Scouts, and other community groups, most recently as a founding trustee of her local educational foundation for the past nine years. Kathy is an active volunteer in the Philadelphia area. Kathy was on the task force for the Women in Leadership and Philanthropy initiative, which led to the creation of the Duke Women's Impact Network (WIN). Kathy serves on the Sanford Institute Board of Visitors and the Duke Forward Sanford Campaign Committee. At Duke Kathy was a member of Kappa Alpha Theta sorority. Kathy and her late husband Rick Lieb '69 have three children: Amy, Benjamin and Suzanne '03.

Tracy Tang Limpe '84 graduated from Duke with a bachelor's in history. She later earned an MBA from the Stern School of Business at New York University. Tracy is retired from a 19-year career in book publishing. She was President and Publisher of the Children's Paperback division of Penguin Group USA from 1995 to 2004. Prior to that, she was Executive Editor at HarperCollins Children's Books. Tracy now works in her family's investment business, overseeing investments in hotels, campgrounds, software, and printing business. Tracy has served in various volunteer capacities. She retired in 2017 as Chair of the Board of Trustees for The Masters School, a co-educational, college preparatory school in Dobbs Ferry, NY, and currently acts as Chair of the School's capital campaign. Tracy is a former trustee of The Marymount School of New York and The Gateway School. At Duke, Tracy served on the Trinity Board of Visitors (1994-2000), and the Executive Leadership Board - New York (1992-1995). She and her husband Stephen Limpe live in Greenwich, CT., with their daughters Emily and Alexandra.

Yibing Mao L'89, P'11, P'21 is Chief Legal Counsel - Asia Pacific for Marriott International. With more than 20 years of Asia Pacific hospitality industry experience, Yibing brings invaluable legal and business expertise to Marriott International's fastest growing region. She leads a multinational legal team across Asia Pacific that supports the development and operations of properties (including Asset Management, BMSC, HR, and IT). Her team also has the responsibility of overseeing the implementation of legal compliance for the APAC Continent. Prior to the merger with Starwood, she assumed the dual role of heading Senior Vice President of Asset Management.

Before joining Marriott in 1996, Ms. Mao was an associate of the Hong Kong office of Milbank, Tweed, Hadley & McCloy, a New York based law firm. She is a graduate of Duke's School of Law and Beijing University. She has two sons, Alexander Wang '11 and Zachary Zhang '21, and lives in Hong Kong with her husband David Zhang.

Sharon Kerrie Marcil '88 (WIN LC Chair) currently serves on The Boston Consulting Group's Executive Committee, the North American Management Team and leads Public Sector practice in the Americas. She is also a member of the BCG Henderson Institute's Innovation Sounding Board, which is dedicated to supporting, inspiring, and guiding upstream innovation at BCG. Sharon is also a member of the Centre for Public Impact Board of Directors, a not-for-profit group founded by BCG to help improve the positive impact of public sector institutions. Prior to joining BCG, Sharon worked for Goldman Sachs in mergers and acquisitions.

Sharon currently serves on Duke's Trinity College of Arts & Sciences Board of Visitors. She previously served on the Duke Annual Fund Executive Committee and the DukeDC Women's Forum, and co-chaired her 25th and 30th Reunions. Sharon serves on two other non-profit boards in the Washington, DC area: Women for Women International and the Center for a New American Security.

Sharon and her husband, Thomas L. Monahan III, have two children, Elizabeth and Caroline.

Terri Mascherin T'81, P'16 is a litigator with the Chicago firm Jenner & Block. She is a Fellow of the prestigious American College of Trial Lawyers and is AV Peer Review Rated, Martindale-Hubbell's highest peer recognition for ethical standards and legal ability. In 2012, Law360 named her a "Top Female Trial Attorney," one of only 15 women nationally selected for the honor. In 2007, she was recognized as one of the "50 Most Influential Women Lawyers in America" by The National Law Journal. A former president of the Chicago Bar Association, Terri has been nationally recognized for her legal work, including her pro bono representation of death row inmates and her work to promote effective representation of defendants in capital cases.

Terri is a co-chair of Jenner & Block's Professional Responsibility Practice, and a member of the Complex Commercial Litigation and International Arbitration practices. She serves the firm as a member of the Diversity and International Committees and the Women's Forum Steering Committee, and is a past member of the firm's Management Committee. Terri serves as the Vice President of the Board of the Lawyers' Trust Fund of Illinois, and is a member and past Chair of the Northwestern University Pritzker School of Law Board. At Duke she was a member of the Duke University Marching Band, the Alpha Omicron Pi sorority, and was secretary of the Associated Students of Duke University. She serves as a member of the Board of the Duke Band Alumni Association, and has co-chaired the fundraising committees for several of her Duke reunions. Terri and her husband Thomas Abendroth live in Evanston, Illinois, and have two daughters, Eliza and Kate '16.

Catie Meyer A.B. '90 earned a bachelor's degree from Duke University in Political Science and Art History and a J.D. from Georgetown University Law Center. Before retiring to raise her two children, she was a litigator specializing in white collar crime and securities litigation. She currently serves on the board of St. Stephen's & St. Agnes School and co-chaired the school's largest capital campaign. She is a member of the board of The Child and Family Network Center, which provides free preschool and family support services to the working poor, and also served on their capital campaign committee. Catie started a local boys youth lacrosse club, The Red Shirts. She served on the Duke Annual Fund Advisory Board (2012-2018), and co-chaired her 15th and 25th Duke Reunions. She lives in Alexandria, Virginia, with her daughter, son, and two dogs.

Tamara McGlockton-Hill graduated from Duke in 1986 with a bachelor's degree in philosophy. She was the fourth child in her family to enroll in and graduate from Duke in a ten year period (1976-1986). She is the CEO of Favored Foods, Inc., has been an active volunteer with the North Texas and Greater Chicago Food Banks, and is a mentor for Sacred Moments Women's Ministries. She developed, facilitated, and served as keynote speaker for a Small Business Entrepreneurs in Food Industry workshop, and has been a featured speaker at Women's Image/Empowerment Conference. She was an active member of Duke's Council on Women's Studies, and appointed to its Executive Committee. She and her husband, Johnny Hill '85 live in Chapel Hill. They have two daughters, Alexis and Kaya.

Janis Rehlaender B.S.E.'77, P'07, P'10, P'12 is the retired director of corporate planning for Baxter International (1978-1987). A global healthcare company, Baxter International develops, manufactures and markets products that save and sustain the lives of people with hemophilia, immune disorders, infectious diseases, kidney disease, trauma, and other chronic and acute medical conditions. Janis also served for six years, three as chair, on the Darien Board of Education in Darien, CT. She is a founding board member of the Given Limb Foundation.

Janis was a biomedical engineering major at Duke and earned an MBA at the University of Chicago. She is a former chair of the Engineering Board of Visitors and chairs Pratt's Capital Campaign Committee. She is an active Engineering Class Agent and Pratt Ambassador, and serves on the Leadership Gifts Committee for Duke Forward. In 2011, she was awarded Pratt School of Engineering's Distinguished Service Award and, in 2009, the DAA's Charles A. Dukes Award. Janis and her husband Jim are chairs of the Braxton Craven Society. They have three sons, James '07, Jason E'10, and Jordan E'12.

Sarah Ryland '87, P'20, P'22 graduated with an A.B. in political science. She worked in Human Resources and Staffing at Tiffany & Co in NY and Montgomery Securities in San Francisco and as a technology recruiter at Oracle Corp. and Korn Ferry Executive Search. She was the founding member of the parent auxiliary for the Peninsula Bridge Program, a nonprofit in Palo Alto to prepare highly motivated students from low income neighborhoods to prepare for high school and be on the college track. She was also a member of the Edgewood Auxiliary in San Francisco to help children at risk whom have suffered domestic abuse and mental health issues. Sarah was very active in fundraising and volunteering roles in her children's elementary through high school communities. She was also a member of the Duke Trinity College Board of Visitors from 2012 through 2018. She lives in Hillsborough, California, with her husband, Kyle Ryland '87, and their children, Connor '20 and Claire '22.

Laurene Meir Sperling '78, P'13, P'14 is president of the Sperling Family Charitable Foundation where she directs its strategic philanthropy in several program areas including education, child and youth development, health care, and poverty alleviation. Her prior professional experience centered in investment banking and venture capital at Paine Webber, Inc. and Cowen and Co., and accounting for Ernst and Young. She has more than thirty years of experience with capital aggregation for corporate and non-profit organizations seeking positive growth and impact. Laurene graduated from Duke with a degree in management science and accounting, and went on to the Harvard Business School to receive her MBA in 1982.

She is chair of the Bell Foundation, a national leader in after-school and summer programs for children at risk. In addition, she serves on the Board of Dean's Advisors for Harvard Business School, the Deans Advisory Board for Harvard's Graduate School of Education, the Dana Farber Cancer Institute Women's Cancers Visiting Committee, the Brigham and Women's Hospital Women's Health Leadership Council, The Board of Combined Jewish Philanthropies where she co-chairs the Taskforce on Measurement, and the Board of Temple Shir Tikva where she is a co-chair of Development. A member of the Duke University Library Advisory Board from 1997 until 2010, she served as Chair from 2006 through 2010.

Elected to the Board of Trustees in 2010, Laurene serves as a member of the Executive Committee, is chair of the Institutional Advancement Committee, serves on the Medical Center Academic Affairs Committee and serves on the Subcommittee on Trusteeship. She and her husband live in Wayland, Massachusetts, and have four children.

Danielle Squires '02 is Managing Director, Interest Rate Risk Management, for Wells Fargo Bank. She joined Wells Fargo in 1999 as part of First Union's Leveraged Finance group, Foreign Exchange Derivatives and Global Financial Institutions. For the past ten years, Ms. Squires has been structuring and marketing interest rate hedging solutions to corporate, commercial, brokerage, real estate and wealth management clients across the United States. She was the youngest person promoted to Managing Director at Wells Fargo Securities. In addition to her coverage responsibilities she sits on the board of the Johnston YMCA in Charlotte, NC as well as the Wells Fargo Securities Development and Engagement Council.

At Duke, Danielle was president of the Alpha Phi Omega community service fraternity serving both the Duke and Durham committee. Continuing her love of development of girls, she restarted the Girl Scout troop at EK Powe Elementary school and served as Troop leader for years. Additionally, Danielle led a student group in Asian and African Literature and Languages in a cross-border project to Beirut, Lebanon creating learnings and dialogue between Duke and Beirut Arab University. After Duke, Danielle served on the Annual Fund Executive council for seven years, co-chaired her 10th reunion, and was a member of the committee for the Commemoration of the 50th Anniversary of the Matriculation of African-American students at Duke. After the 50th, Danielle served on the President's appointed council, Duke Proceed, to continue alumni connections with and development of all those who celebrated the 50th. She is currently the president of Duke Black Alumni (DBA).

Danielle holds Bachelor of Arts degrees in Comparative Area Studies and Italian from Duke University with a concentration in economics. While at Duke she worked as a phonathon caller for the Annual Fund. She and her husband, Stephen Silvera, live in Charlotte and have twin daughters, Cameron and Charlotte.

Barbara Hoover Sutherland T'75, P'03, P'06 graduated from Duke with a BA in Economics and received her MBA from Villanova University in 1983. She has been an active volunteer leader with several non-profits in the Philadelphia area, most recently with the St. David's Church Outreach Commission and Episcopal Community Services. She also serves on the Executive Committee of the Free Library of Philadelphia Foundation Board. In 2015, she and her husband Fred Sutherland '73 established the Access & Opportunity Challenge at Duke, a $10 million gift to establish a financial aid challenge match. Barbara has served on the Leadership Gifts Committee, the Trinity Board of Visitors, and the Financial Aid Initiative Development Committee. The Sutherlands live in Haverford, Pennsylvania, and have two sons, Matthew E'03 and Mark '06.

Katherine Upchurch, MD '76, P'10 is the President-Elect of Duke's Medical Alumni Association and Medical Alumni Council, having served on the MAC for more than ten years. She is Clinical Chief of the Division of Rheumatology at the UMass Memorial Medical Center and Clinical Professor of Medicine at University of Massachusetts Medical School. She continues to be actively engaged in the practice of rheumatology, administration, clinical research and the education of undergraduate medical students and trainees at all levels.

Kathy has been involved in philanthropic work throughout her career. From 2005 to 2008, she served as the Duke Medical School liaison to the Financial Aid Initiative Development Committee, which oversaw one of President Brodhead's earliest mini-campaigns. In this capacity, she spearheaded a successful effort to raise over $12 million for permanently endowed medical school scholarships, part of a university wide $230 million overall goal for scholarship support. She recently was on the Steering Committee for fundraising for the Mary Duke Biddle Trent Semans Center for Health Education.

Outside of Duke, she was the physician lead of the American College of Rheumatology "Within Our Reach" campaign which concluded in 2011 and raised over $30 million to support research towards a cure for rheumatoid arthritis. She is currently Vice Chair of the Board of the Massachusetts Medical Society and Alliance Foundation, which identifies and funds national and international requests for worthy projects on behalf of underserved populations. Kathy and her husband Dr. Ronald Takvorian live in Concord, MA, and have three children: Kate, Sam and Sarah Takvorian '10.

Sarah Hawkins Warren '04, JD '08 currently serves on the Board of Visitors for Duke Law School. She has previously served on the Annual Fund Executive Committee, on the national board of directors for the Young Alumni Development Council, and as the National Chair of Young Alumni Leadership Giving. She has also co-chaired the Class of 2004 5th and 10th Reunions and chaired Duke Law School's Law Alumni Association–New Lawyers Division. In 2013, Sarah received the Duke University School of Law Young Alumni Award. Outside of Duke, Sarah is the Solicitor General of Georgia and the Vice President of the Westminster Schools Alumni Association Governing Board. She lives in Atlanta with her husband Blaise and their children Elizabeth and William.

Alison Malin Zoellner '87 (history and political science) is the Vice President and General Counsel of the Advanced Materials business of Honeywell International Inc., an approximately $2.6 billion global business which manufactures a wide variety of high-performance products, including environmentally preferable refrigerants and materials used to manufacture end products such as bullet resistant armor, nylon, computer chips and pharmaceutical packaging. Prior to this role, she was the Assistant General Counsel, Securities and Finance, of Honeywell, acting as the Company's lead SEC disclosure finance lawyer. Alison was a 2016 Fellow of the Leadership Council on Legal Diversity. Alison previously served as the Vice President and General Counsel of The New York Times Company, where she was the principal transactional lawyer as well as SEC disclosure counsel. She was also an associate at Sullivan & Cromwell. She graduated with honors from The University of Texas School of Law in 1990 and is a member of the New York Steering Committee for the law school.

Alison has remained engaged with Duke since graduation in fundraising and reunion leadership activities, most recently co-chairing her 30th reunion. Alison's other volunteer leadership roles have included Trustee of The Pingry School (Basking Ridge, NJ) where she was on the Executive Committee and chaired the Committee on Trustees, parent director of Trinity College (Hartford, CT), board member of The Connection for Women and Families (Summit, NJ), board member of the Reeves-Reed Arboretum (Summit, NJ), and rector search committee member for Calvary Episcopal Church (Summit, NJ).

Alison is married to Scott Zoellner and lives in Summit, NJ and Nantucket, MA. They have two sons, Teddy and Jaime.